

GTCC Summer Institute 2017

Workshop 1710
TITLE:	Get a (Virtual) Reality Check! and A to Z Your Tech Skills
DESCRIPTION:	Day One of this workshop will take you through the Interactive Virtual Reality (IVR) world using Google Expeditions, smartphones, and headsets. Presenters will discuss the A to Z of an IVR Lab including, but not limited to the following: purchasing, setting up, management in a school-wide setting, using in a classroom, identifying equipment and terminology, where to find Google Expeditions, accessing lesson plans for a Google Expedition, and the pros and cons of Google Expeditions IVR. This technology is SO unique, that it really takes experiencing it to see the amazing uses possible in the education arena. Day Two of this workshop will cover cool technology tricks for your classroom. Presenters will discuss the A to Z of using Google in your classroom including, but not limited to the following: Google Classroom, Google Forms, Chrome Extensions and Apps, Microsoft Office 365 and Edge. The presenters will give a Google overview, discuss Google and Chrome basics, walk participants through building a Google Classroom, creating and posting assignments. Participants will also learn about Google Forms, Office 365 and browser tools in Edge and Chrome.
